

Year Three

In Year 3, we have combined our newly acquired newspaper writing skills with our extensive knowledge of the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in AD 79 and written our own newspaper reports. One piece of work from each Year 3 class has been chosen to be published in Low Ash News.

The following was written by Ndey Njie in 3CH:

<h1>POMPEII IN PERT!!!</h1>
24th August 79 AD
by Ndey Low ash NEWS.
	its not over yet. Thousands of people have already died just from day turning into dusk. Half of the town is already buried in ash and a pyroclastic glow has made its way down the volcano.
A couple of days ago Mount Vesuvius erupted. At 3pm a cloud of ash was unleashed into the air. Everyone knew that Pompeii was going to be under attack.	By 3pm ash had already rained down on the town also with the pyroclastic glow finally finished. Houses were burning in flames and some got people too. A survivor told us that: "The ground was shaking and we didnt know what was happening." Nothing is visible only a few survivors in shock. By the following morning very few people are still living. Mount Vesuvius has finished its attack. Please can you donate time or money? thank you.
Pompeii is in danger which means soon there wont be Pompeii. However there has only been rumbling and smoke which means

Year Three

Here is an example of published work from 3MH, written by Robyn Crowshaw

Pompeii News.

Pompeii in hot a.

by Robyn heard the ground shake. At first, people got on with there day but it got worse as the day went on. A flash of lightning came and people started to run away but came back to get valigebals. "The oven was bubbling when we got on the boat" said China.

Pompeii, in Italy, was destroyed on the 24th of August 79 ad.

About 3,000 people past away because of the eruption and for words of horses were damaged. At first, people noticed a ash cloud when smoke drifted away.

In the early hours of the mornin, people in Pompeii people were run away as fire spread and turned day to night. people were told to evacuate. At 8pm as the volcano we heard a pyroclastic glow began and it took 4 times to cover Pompeii.