Dear Class 2CR,

I hope that you are all ok and have settled into your home learning. It might seem peculiar at first but we will all adjust soon and I feel very grateful that I can still help you all learn, even if it isn't from our bright, colourful classroom! Remember how I always talked about how you had such an exciting learning journey ahead of you? Well that statement is still true! Only now I need you to take some responsibility for this and make sure you keep doing the work I'm setting, I know you can all do it and will rise to this challenge because you are all superstars and I'm very proud to call you my class!

Trying to keep to a routine for your home learning will help to give your day a structure; if it helps you could always follow the routine we had in school. The morning looked like this: Maths, Reading, Spelling or Handwriting and then English. In the afternoons, we did lessons such as History, Geography, Science and Art. Don't worry if you don't follow this structure though, home learning is about doing what works for you and as long as you're still learning and doing bits of each subject that is what really matters! Don't forget to make time for daily exercise too. I'm doing the Joe Wicks PE lesson each morning. If you wanted to join in too it is every morning at 9am on YouTube. If we all do it 'live' it's like we are all doing PE together, which is quite cool! I've also been making time for some yoga (again, from YouTube) which helps me to relax as well as being a good form of exercise! We did some yoga in class so maybe this is something you would like to try too. Don't forget to get your grown-up's permission and supervision before going on YouTube though!

I have been logging in to Purple Mash daily to look at the fantastic work you have been doing. It's so lovely to see you have such positive attitudes towards your learning! I'm able to write comments about your work and help you remember key things if you struggle with a piece of work set. So even though we're not in the same classroom I can mark your work, which is wonderful as I love to see you all making progress and learning new things still!

Although it is really important that you are doing some Maths, English and Reading every day and completing the tasks set for other subjects, don't forget the Easter Holidays are coming up! This gives you time to relax and spend time with your family! Maybe you could play a game in the garden together, do some baking with your grown-up or have a film evening with sweeties! You could also use this time to learn a new skill like how to ride a bike or learn a magic trick! When we are back at school, we can then show each other our new skills! I've been teaching myself sign language with some of my free time! Spring is here now so hopefully the sun will be shining more and all the pretty flowers and cute baby animals will start appearing. I can see some little lambs in the field near my house already! Try to get outside in the garden and make the most of this lovely season!

I keep thinking about you all and I miss every single one of your happy smiles and friendly chitter-chatter but rest-assured I am still your teacher, even if our classroom environment has changed. I am still here for you and will continue to help and care for you all! I will write to you again soon and it would be lovely if some of you wanted to write back by posting a letter to school!

Keep smiling those happy smiles of yours! See you all soon,
Miss Robinson
